

When You Need More Than

Health Information Training

for Richmond City Staff and Community Partners

An opportunity to learn and discuss:

- How to find reliable health information online
- Search techniques for finding health resources for low-literacy and multilingual populations
- New technology and health trends
- Role of the library in supporting community health and opportunities for collaboration
- Much more!

Free!

Don't forget to RSVP!

Thursday October 29 & Friday, October 30, 2015

(Same training on both days, please indicate which day you will attend when you RSVP)

8:30am-12:30pm @ IT Training Room in Richmond City Hall

450 Civic Center Plaza basement

To RSVP, email or call Ellen Kersten:
ellen_kersten@ci.richmond.ca.us
510-307-8002

Presented by Kelli Ham

Consumer Health and Technology Librarian

National Network of Libraries of Medicine, UCLA Biomedical Library

